Use and collection of information

The United States (US) Department of State contracted CSC to collect visa applicant and biometric data, schedule consular appointments, and provide courier services in support of US visa applications. In order to provide these services, CSC collects personal information including but not limited to name, address, date of birth, passport number, Internet Protocol (IP) address, and a variety of other data points. All information collected through this service is captured and stored on computer systems maintained in the United States pursuant to CSC's contract with the United States Department of State.

Interactive Voice Response (IVR) and Call Center Services

All phone calls received by CSC through phone numbers that support this service are recorded and stored on computer servers retained in the United States. Access to phone call recordings is restricted to authorized CSC and Department of State personnel.

Applicant Service Center Operations

Applicant Service Centers (ASC) are in-country CSC managed facilities used to collect applicant biometric information including but not limited to digital photograph and fingerprints. CSC collects applicant biometric data using equipment provided and owned by the United States Department of State.

All biometric data collected by CSC is transmitted directly to the computer systems owned and operated by the US Department of State. CSC does not have access to any applicant biometric data. CSC does not retain copies or store any applicant biometric data.

All ASCs are configured with Closed Circuit TV (CCTV) cameras that record the ASC proceedings on a daily basis. Signs indicating the
